Monash University in Brief

Monash University enrolled its first students at the Clayton campus in 1961 when the University consisted of the faculties of Arts, Economics and Politics, Engineering, Medicine and Science. It is now Australia's largest university with over 56,000 students enrolled at its six Australian campuses at Berwick, Caulfield, Clayton, Gippsland, Parkville and Peninsula and its overseas campuses in Sunway (Malaysia) and South Africa.

The University engages in an extensive range of high quality research and provides a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs via conventional and flexible study modes including distance education and intensive learning modules. Today, more than 9,500 students study off-campus and increasingly online.

The University's research and coursework programs, many of which are multi-disciplinary, are currently provided through ten faculties: Art & Design, Arts, Business & Economics, Education, Engineering, Information Technology, Law, Medicine, Nursing & Health Sciences, Pharmacy & Pharmaceutical Sciences and Science.

Monash University is a richly diverse and multicultural community serving Indigenous and recent Australians together with students from over one hundred countries. The latter, mainly from Malaysia, China, Singapore, Indonesia and Hong Kong, make up some 35 per cent of all enrolments. Of these, more than 7,000 students are enrolled in programs outside of Australia, mainly in the Asia Pacific region.

The information presented in this document comes from the annual student, staff, research and finance statistical collections submitted to the Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations (DEEWR), Monash Annual Reports and reports compiled by Universities Australia. Please note that totals may differ slightly from the sum of their components due to rounding.

3 Figures are the equivalent full-time study load (EFTSL) undertaken by students for the whole academic year. Load figures are based on full year data as reported to DEEWR.

4 The teaching faculty is the faculty responsible for individual units and therefore teaching the load. A student is enrolled through one particular faculty or campus, but the load generated may be spread across multiple teaching faculties. Teaching faculty data reflects current unit ownership.

5 Figures are the full-time equivalent (FTE) and include DEEWR non-reportable staff employed in independent operations (273 in 2004, 308 in 2005, 275 in 2006, 194 in 2007 and 147 in 2008).

6 DEEWR reportable staff figures given here do not include locally employed staff at Monash Sunway, Malaysia and Monash South Africa. The staff headcount figures for 2008 for these campuses are 432 and 224 respectively.

7 The Student:Staff ratio is calculated using the 'Universities Australia, All students, Staff in AOU's methodology'. This definition includes onshore and offshore load but excludes work experience in industry load. Student:Staff Ratio (SSR) calculations include staff employed in Academic Organisation Units (AOU) and includes both full-time/fractional full-time & casual staff employed in 'Teaching only' and 'Teaching & research' functions. Staff employed in independent operations have been excluded.

8 The Academic-General staff ratio includes casual staff but excludes staff in independent operations and staff at the Sunway and South Africa campuses. Note: the data for 2008 includes an estimated figure for casuals.
